Better Speech Week Is Nov. 1-8

The Home, School and Community Should Be Interested In Nation's Education.

Better Speech Week begins November 1 and continues until November 8. It is under the direction and leadership of the National Council of Teachers of English. Better Speech Week was first celebrated by the Eastern District High School in New York City, Sept. 1915. The plan of this celebration took in contests, presentation of pageants, appointment of committees and other fascinating activities. The important things to be gained by Better Speech Week are concentration of attention, a desire for personal improvement, increased love and respect for our national language and an establishment of more congenial social relationships among the students.

The work should be organized thru a central committee. All the civic organizations should be represented. In the schools there are many devices which can be used to great advantage. Commend the apt and expressive word, have the children write stories of words just as they do of deeds; form a habit of noticing and commending their usage of good English. Every teacher in this district should so plan the work Nov. 1-8 that the emphasis falls upon better speech.

The Freshmen English class of S. T. C., will take up the correct form of English for speech making and composition work during this week.

One of the most effective ways of interesting the community is thru a display of attractive posters. The Art Department of S. T. C., has such a poster reproduced in this issue of the Green and White. See page eight.

In the home, better speech may be fostered by reading aloud. School children would learn and improve more rapidly if they became acquainted with good literature at home. A dictionary in the home would soon become a valuable source of information for them.

The Community can be reached more directly thru the newspapers. It is the duty of every newspaper in America to carry a front page article in regard to Better Speech Week. The working man may be reached by short talks given at the factories during lunch hour. Social clubs, mothers' clubs, women's clubs and the Boy Scouts can be enlisted in this College Campus Is the Scene of Extensive Improvements.

A visitor to the College campus will see many busy groups of men.

Masons began the construction of the memorial arches west of the college last week. They are building an arch at each end of the avenue of Maples which was planted in memory of the Nodaway County boys who lost their lives in the World War. The arches will have bronze tablets engraved with the names of the boys. The Maryville chapter of the D. A. R. is having the work done.

Many men with teams are working southwest of the building preparing the new athletic field. All the grading is to be completed this fall.

Others have made the holes along the Seventh street walk and down the drive where the poplars are to be planted.

Many people have been inquiring about the trenches which were being dug on the college lawn. They are for a permanent watering system to keep the lawn always green.

The new flag pole has been delivered at last. As the granite base had already been placed south of the building, the pole will soon be in place. It is erected by the college to commemorate the services of faculty and students during the World War.

With all of these improvements we are soon going to have the most picturesque campus as well as the best all around teachers college in the state of Missouri.

Miss Miller to Speak to Kansas Teachers.

Miss Mildred Miller will speak Oct. 29 at the Kansas State Teachers' Association at Topeka, Kan., on "The Application of the Project Theory."

It seemed quite natural to see Bill Richards roaming around in the halls of the College October 14-16. Bill is doing very successful work as Superintendent of the High School at Graham, Mo. We miss Bill on our football and basket ball teams but we wish him the best of success in his new capacity.

Nation-wide celebration and advancement.

Better Speech Week has been very well defined in a poster prepared by the Women's Club of Wisconsin. It reads: "Better American Speech Week, a drive which asks for no money, but urges you to increase your own capital. How? Improve your speech."

S. T. C. Hiking Club Organized—Walk to Wilcox First Night.

After assembly, Tuesday, Oct. 19, the hiking club, under the direction of Miss MacLeod, met and fully organized a regular hiking club.

The officers elected were:
President Alice Peery
Secretary and Treasurer..... Mabel Cook

The hike leaders for Tuesday night were Jessie Murphy and Bess Curl.

Tuesday evening at 4:30 o'clock twenty-seven girls started for Wilcox. Thirteen walked the entire distance of eight miles while the rest went in the bus about four and one-half miles. Before reaching Wilcox the "hikers" ate a delightful picnic supper and then walked on to Wilcox.

They came back to Maryville on the night train, a rather tired but joyous bunch of girls.

Any students who care for open air exercises and are willing to dress sensibly and work a little harder at times so they will have time to take the hikes are eligible to become members of the club.

They are now working on a system of honor for the persons that should be awarded honor points for walking fifty miles and an award will be made for those who walk one hundred miles. A record will be kept and posted of those that took the hikes and also the number of miles they walked.

Hike leaders will be appointed for each week. They will plan the hikes and post the notices and probably each week will post a map showing the roads and the spot where the bonfire will be built.

All girls are urged to become one of the jolly members of this club.

Current History—Mr. Wells or Mr. Foster.

The organization of other classes is being considered.

Bearcats Visit Fulton Oct. 28

Football Team Is In Excellent Shape for the Game With Westminster College.

Tomorrow the football team leaves for Fulton to play Westminster College. The team has been having hard practice for two weeks and leaves with high hopes. Coach Rice is taking sixteen men with him and expects to come back with the long end of the score. The probable line-up will be:

Center, Mapel; R. Guard, Boatman; L. Guard, Lawton; R. Tackle, M. Wells; L. Tackle, C. Wells; R. End, Kirby; L. End, Steiger; Q. B. Miller; R. H. B., Webb; L. H. B., Puckett; F. B., Pickens; Subs., Horton, Long, Hays, England.

In speaking of the team Coach Rice says, "The football team has been working hard for the past two weeks under a new defensive practice and shows promise of good results. The backfield has been co-ordinating in a much more efficient manner since the Lamoni game, the backs seeming to run better interference and the line is charging like a true college team."

Also Mr. Glenn in speaking of the line says, "For their weight they are out-charging the average college line. Although defeated the men did not lose their pep and if they continue to fight as they have been it will take a real team to beat them."

This is what the men are going up against Friday. Last year Missouri Wesleyan College won the championship. This year Westminster held them to a tie. So you see that if our team wins the game they will show that they are real football players.

It puts pep into the team to see Dr. Hobbs, head of the physical education department out at practice every afternoon. He knows football and understands men, and by some valuable suggestions offered by him the team is building up a powerful offensive game.

Everybody root for the team, support it, aid it and work for it. Let them know we are behind them. They fight for us; let's support them. All together—Fifteen rahs for the team, Dr. Hobbs, Coach Rice, and Mr. Glenn. Let's go, Bearcats; we're behind you.

Miss Winn spent Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City with Mrs. Harrison Johnston, formerly Eleanor Richey an S. T. C. student.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1920

The first test of an Educated Man or Woman is correctness and precision in the use of the Mother Tongue.

WHY NOT?

Why not have a "worth while reading" column in our paper, consisting of references furnished by the Faculty members. Let them each week give one definite magazine article or some definite pages in a certain book that would be interesting as well as instructive to the students.

Also why not a "Who's Who in S. T. C." column. Each week something happens to some of our students or faculty worthy of special mention. But the majority of us never know anything of it. If we had a "Who's Who" column, all would contribute and keep us better informed as to S. T. C. celebrities.

What about it, faculty and students? Do you want these features added to the paper? If so, each faculty member can hand the references to his reporter each week. Faculty and students can hand in items for "Who's Who." Do not be too modest to let your light shine. Remember, it may attract someone to S. T. C. Why not? The staff await the answer.

Alumni Notes.

Vivian Sent, B. S., 1919, attended the association, Oct. 14-16. She intends to introduce the study of economics in the high school at New Point, where she is teaching. While here she made inquiry of the history department concerning a reliable text on the subject.

Myrtle McPherron, 1914, Supt. of the high school at Martinsville, Mo., visited the college, October 14-16.

Marie Landfather, 1919, who is teaching at Parnell, attended the teachers' convention here October 14-16.

Lowell Livengood, B. S., 1920, Supt. at Elmo, Alberta Wilkerson, 1917, and Stenna Dooley, a former student, teaching at Elmo, attended the association.

Elizabeth McCormick, 1913, Superintendent of Bigelow and Lily Nelson, 1918, principal of Bigelow, attended the District Teachers Association here October 14-16.

Grace Stevenson, B. S. 1920, now teaching at Redlands, California, thinks that country wonderful. She says there is so much to see and enjoy that she can't get it all, but is getting as much as one person is capable of getting.

Viola Barber, B. S., 1920, is teaching Geometry, History and Home Economics in the High School at Flagler, Colo.

Forrest Hanna, attorney in Kansas City, his sister, Mrs. Hildred Hanna Toel, 1914, and Miss Eichmiller, formerly an assistant to Miss Anthony, were visitors at assembly last Tuesday.

Bertha Bolting, 1919, is now teaching a rural school near New Hampton.

Egbert Jennings, 1912, Alyce Leeper, B. S., 1920, Edna Turner, 1916, Harvey Watson, 1914, Bessie Bonham, 1918, and Elvira Ward, 1918, are teaching in the King City Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baker announce the birth of their son, Tuesday, Oct. 12. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baker graduated from the College in 1917. Mrs. Baker was formerly Miss Emma Hardin.

Mr. Miller received a letter from Lloyd Hartley, 1918, who is teaching in Deer Lodge, Mont. Mr. Hartley is pleased with his work and reports that the town is a very interesting place because of its early history and the electrical shops which are located there now.

Thursday afternoon, Oct. 14, the girls who formerly roomed at Perrin Hall endeavored to get together for a homecoming. One at a time, they finally assembled in the girls' parlor at the Hall. Each one told of her present position and how she was enjoying her work. Memories of the good old times were many and the brief assembly was much enjoyed.

Among the former Perrin Hall folks were: Alyce Leeper, Viola Brandt, Mildred Broyles, Lois Wilson, Jennie Getz, Ruth Foland, Dora Shefsky, Gae McCrauder and Ruth Heck.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Physical Education.

The classes in tennis and hockey are still displaying much interest and they seem to feel that without athletics no school spirit could exist.

All girls of the College are still urged to join in any or all of its athletics.

English.

Miss Winn's classes in composition have been studying and writing about the League of Nations. In this they are co-operating with the history department and Mr. Miller's debating class. Papers have been written on the history of the League idea, the kinds of Leagues men have had, and argumentative compositions on the present League, both pro and con. Several excellent papers were written and Miss Winn is very well pleased with the results as a whole.

Biology.

Biology 11 is setting up representative groups of indoor experiments to demonstrate the growth in plants.

Usually something of living interest in the way of bugs, snakes, fish, crawfish, and porch boxes, is to be found to interest folks who happen to wander into the laboratory. But the most remarkable one bit of furniture that attracts attention is the case containing the bones of a preceding generation that are caged harmlessly in one corner of the room.

Education.

Class IV in Rural Methods is working on a model Rural School Program and a model Rural School Building.

Music.

The music department has a large enrollment this quarter and excellent work is being accomplished in each division.

The Girls' Chorus and the College Orchestra made their initial appearance Thursday afternoon, Oct. 14, during the Teachers meeting with creditable success, considering the short time for practice which they had. However, a good organization is expected before the end of the year and some real music will be offered to the public at various times.

Agriculture.

The class in cereal crops is selecting seed corn from the field on the school farm.

There was a good display of corn at the corn show last week. Due to late planting and dry weather during the summer, and the early frosts, the corn is not as mature as it should be. Much of it will harden in a couple of weeks but there is certain to be some soft corn this year.

The fifteen acres of soy beans on the school farm have been cut with a binder and shocked like wheat or oats. The crop is a very good one.

The class in Animal Husbandry visited the Bellows and Ogden Short-horn herds, and studied them as part cattle.

LITERARY SOCIETY NOTES.

Faculty are Busy With Extra Rural Work.

Our faculty are certainly busy this fall. If extension work does not claim their time they are out making speeches at different community meetings.

New Point consolidated school held a Community Fair last week and several of our faculty were there. Miss Anthony was there Thursday and Friday, President Richardson Thursday evening and Friday, and Dr. Keller, Friday. Mr. Hawkins went to Martinsville, Friday, Oct. 22.

Dr. Keller went to Daleview, a school between Skidmore and Fairfax Friday evening, Oct. 22.

Miss Miller and Dr. Keller spoke at the Teachers' Meeting held at Platte City, Saturday, Oct. 23.

Tuesday, Oct. 26, Miss Anthony went to Westboro to judge the exhibits displayed and President Richardson spoke there.

Dr. Keller went to Platte City, Oct. 23 to speak before the teachers and school board members. One of our former students, Gertrude A. Fulcher is Superintendent of this school.

The high school students and faculty enjoyed a picnic Friday, Oct. 15. Everyone enjoyed themselves and did justice to the "cats." After the picnic was over, all returned to the high school gymnasium where the Freshman class was initiated.

The first scheduled game of basket ball will be played Oct. 29, 1920. The boys' team will meet the Burlington Junction team at Burlington Junction on that date.

The teachers in the grades spent Wednesday, Oct. 13 visiting the schools at Clarinda, Ia. They reported a very profitable and enjoyable visit with the schools there. By such visits as those the teachers have the opportunity of observing the work of other teachers and in this way new ideas are brought back to the school that will add greatly to the efficiency of their work. They reported a high standard of work being done by the Clarinda schools.

Benton-St. Joseph.

Bentonian, the paper founded last year by the Beta Tau Pi is to be published by the whole school this year. The first number is interesting and promises well for the future.

The article, "Blessings On Thee, Our Little Hill," appealed especially to Miss Winn and Miss Minnie James who used to climb it daily.

"We have 189 enrolled here. There are 36 in the High School and 153 in the grades."

The Faucett basket ball team won from the Easton team at Easton, 32 to 8. The victory was due mainly to superior weight.

Martinsville.

Laberta Kidwell has been appointed reporter at Martinsville. She reports the following:

Martinsville 9—Eagleville 8.

Martinsville 16—Darlington 9.

Martinsville won her first two basket ball games. The boys are well coached and show excellent team work.

The Martinsville H. S. recently went on a weiner roast given by Miss McPherron as a reward for perfection in the Junior Red Cross enrollment.

Bigelow.

Board of Control Add New Contest.

The N. W. H. S. A., has decided to introduce contests in typewriting and short hand next spring. Mr. Griffin and Miss Minnie James are perfecting the plans. This makes fourteen events in the contests.

Four of the members of the board, Mr. Vandersloot, Mr. Crookshank, Mr. Diemer and Mr. Godby held an informal meeting, Oct. 15 at which their plans for the coming year were discussed.

Jessie Trussell, formerly of S. T. C., is teaching the intermediate grade at Bogard, Mo.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

At Chapel, October 19th, President Richardson talked to the students on the value of physical education which includes gymnasium work and the study of Health Control. Every calling or vocation demands physical efficiency. Many of the ailments, diseases, and even deaths might be avoided if we only knew how to care for ourselves. These who teach are charged with the responsibility of the health of the child.

The new director of the Department of Physical Education, Dr. Hobbs, was introduced to the assembly. Dr. Hobbs stated that the basis for future work in his department would be the physical examinations which every student would be urged to take. He also stressed the recreational side of the department.

The remainder of the hour was spent in singing.

Dr. Keller attended the school fair at the Eureka school in Atchison county, Oct. 11 and 12. From there he went to the North Star school where he attended another fair.

Gladys Davison of Tarkio and Ruth Jones of this city were guests of Miss Helwig while attending teachers' convention.

Dr. Keller went to the consolidated school at New Point, Friday, Oct. 22 to speak to the Senior class. Mr. Skelton, one of our alumni is Superintendent of this school, Oct. 22, he attended a community meeting at the consolidated district of Daleview.

A rather interesting coincident happened during the teachers' convention here. Dr. Fred Keller was in the hall and heard someone call his name. However, upon closer investigation he found that there was another man here by the name of Fred L. Keller. He of course immediately began to investigate matters but could not claim any relation. Fred L. Keller is principal of the High School at Chula, Mo.

Estelle Dunston, former S. T. C., student, is now teaching the seventh and eighth grades in Bogard, Mo.

THE STROLLER.

Teachers' meeting is over and the Stroller has decided that he does not want to follow a profession where women predominate. She went to hear Dr. Judd and thought his evening address was fine. She was just coming out of the auditorium when he met Alma Lucas; the Stroller asked Alma how she liked Dr. Judd's speech?

Alma answered, "Oh, it was all right but say, did you notice that young professor who sat in the center row and who wore a brown suit. He had such a winning smile." The Stroller hurried on as he did not wish to be confided in.

One afternoon last week he strolled out on the athletic field to see what the football team was doing. As she neared a group of players he thought the whole team was talking but found out that it was only Sister Mapel telling Coach Rice how to run a football team. He was using some choice words which he keeps for special occasions.

Later as the Stroller came thru the gym after practice, he heard Webb lamenting because the game with Chillicothe Business College had been cancelled since he would have to write to his friend that he could not come. Why does someone always take the joy out of life? The Stroller does not know.

Anyway Mary Bailey does not take the joy out of life for she feeds chocolates to the sick. The Stroller knows and has been hoping that he would have tonsillitis for she likes chocolates too.

The Stroller has decided to join the Hikers' Club and get his face powder free. She also has noticed the perpetual smile on Chas. Wells' face and thinks that surely his Shipps has arrived.

The Stroller sincerely hopes that Geneva Wilfley will not be disturbed anymore by Romeo below her window. Ask her for particulars as the Stroller is not a bureau of information.

Class Has Une Promenade Francaise.

The class French 61a spent an hour Monday morning in "une promenade francaise." Starting from the building at nine o'clock they went thru the new memorial avenue, the college park, and returned by way of the new athletic field. Each student had prepared a special topic of interest to the class which he discussed in French and the rest of the hour was spent in general conversation. The walk was especially interesting as it brought in a vocabulary almost entirely new, based on things outside the classroom.

Leo Meek went to Kansas City Wednesday Oct. 20 to attend a short course offered by the Columbia Phonograph Co., to their salesman. Leo will be gone about five days.
